THE HOFFMAN BOULEVARD AND FOREST PARK AGAIN.

DELIGHTFUL RIDE FROM JAMAICA TO NEW-TOWN-PROGRESS OF THE WORK ON EAST-

AVE. AND THE OLD FOUTH ROAD. In view of the prevailing ignorance that appears to exist among Brooklyn riders regarding the Hoffman Boulevard, recently referred to in this column, it is in order to make some further mention of it. It is as good a road as is to be found on Long Island, and runs through an interesting country traveller toward Jamaica olong Broadway comes at Dunton, about three miles from the city comes at Dunton, about three miles from the city line, to Van Wyck-ave. Turning left on this, a ride of half a mile or thereabouts brings him to Jamaica-ave., a few reds from one of the ancient tollgates. On the opposite side of Jamaica-ave, what is called the Williamsburg Road (macadamized) runs off to the northwest, leading through Forest Park. Further on this becomes Metropolitansave. To the east of the tolkgate a few rods, running aimost directly north, is the Hoffman Boulevard, which is the direct route from Jamaica to Newtown. It passes over the terminal moraine of the great glacier, but the grades are by no means as steep as those on the road from Jamaica to Flushing. This boulevard was improved within a recent time, since the idea of not exceeding a 3 per cent grade (that is, a rise of three feet in one hundred) took root in the minus of the responsible officials of Queens County, and there are numerous evidences in the cutting down of hills of the efforts made to provide easy gradients. Hence

Just before reaching Newtown the rider sees a road leading to the left barred by a rail bearing the words "Road closed." This is Trotting tame, the direct road between this region and Woodhaven. It is now being macadamized and is unridable for a mile. When finished it will be the abortest smooth raute between Newtown and Brooklyn. This road passes through Forest Park, crossing Metropoliton-ave, on the way. And any one who go seem into the region here referred to may as well as not take a glance at the beauties of Forest Park. Three Brooklyn riders did this last Sunday, one of them naving previously been there. To say that the other two were delighted is to put it mildly. It was a simple revelation to them, and they were profuse in their thanks to the guide who had given them so much pleasure. Turning east from Metropolitan ave, they first made their way to the borseshae near the castern and Woodhaven. It is now being macadamized and

The question was referred to a well-informed New-Yorker, whose first remark was that at the present time the Brooklyn man might go up Roosevelt-st. On asphalt, as that street has been repayed "But," said be.

bout the condition of Glenmore-ave, may rejoice sections are well under way, and with a little trouble it is possible even now to ride over the new been delivered, and the setting of the curbstones was begun last week. One of the drawbacks to this foute for bityclists is that the railroad tracks in Atlantic-ave will have to be crossed at grade. But Brooklyntics are living in hopes that in two of three years the railroad will be removed from the surface of that avenue, and then this nuisance will be done away with there as well as at Bedford-ave. At the same time it should be remembered that in Glemonte-ave, it is necessary to cross the yard of the railroad company and the tracks of the Manhaitan Beach division and the Charase Railroad, and these are almost as great a nuisance as the Atlantic-ave, railroad itself.

One of the disagreeable things that those taking the new route will escape is the Brownsyllle district, which is depressing and unpleasant in the extreme. In a year of two it will be seen that the Germon-ave, improvement was only a termiorary makeshift, and it will fall into disuse; but that affords no excuse for the policy that permitted a poor road to be built where a good one was demanded.

Work on the Harway-ave, bridge has at last been started, and the contractors declare that they will ose no time in getting the bridge completed. That is good news for the cyclists of the metropolitan district. Furthermore, the proceedings for grading the streets leading to the bridge are well advanced, and it leoks as if the two pieces of work would go hand in hard and be completed about the same time late in the fall. This route cannot be used to any large extent before next apring, but it is certain to be popular as soon as opened.

seventh-st., that beyond that point the avenue is scarcely used at all, and if he has felt curiosity enough to go on to the end, or, rather, the beginning, a few hundred yards from Forty-seventh-st. he must have wondered on what principle the work of macadamizing was done there. The avenue starts in the middle of a field, and there is no lat-eral street until Forty-seventh-st. is reached. Near e starting point there is a farmhouse, and from the starting point there is a farmhouse, and from the lane leading in to it there are evidences that the macadam has been deliven over to a small extent, although it is little worm down. For the few rols between the lane and the place where the macadam begins it may be described as virgin soll, as there is scarcely a sign that a vehicle of any kind has ever passed over it. It is a curious illustration of the way takes were done under the fown non-rement of New-Urecht, when the contract for this work was made. Some time in the future the new unarest macadam will be af advantage to the neithborhood, and mobably it will be carried still if further to the north, since Fifteenth-ave, is laid out on the map as beginning at Cravescud-ave.

THE GUNBOAT ORDERED READY FOR SEA BY SEP-TEMBER 2-THE CHICAGO NEARING COMPLE-TION- AN ORDER AFFECTING WATCH

DUTY IN PORT AND AT SEA

An unexpected change in the orders relative to the finishing of vessels now in the hands of workmen at the Navy Yard, received late yesterday afternoon, will make the Department of Construction and Repair the centre of activity for the next few days. The gunboat Annapolis is ordered to be ready for sea on September 2. which is two weeks ahead of the time originally set, and compliance with the order will require will go from the yard direct to Hampton Roads where she will be taken in charge by the In spection Board. The delay in completing the little vessel and holding her final test has been the cause of not a little anxiety on the part of her builders, the Crescent company, of which Lewis Nixon is the head, as the final payment by the Government to her constructors will not be made until after the report of the Board has been received, and it is understood that the urgent appeals of Mr. Nixon to the Department are back of the order for rushing the work of rumor that Commander Bowman H. McCalle, o unpleasant fame among sailors, had applied for her command, will have a week longer at the her turret-handling apparatus in condition to de business, and her engine-room all straightened out. The Detroit is slated for duty on the 9th a day after the cruiser and the monitor are to sail. The squadron which included the New York, Indiana, Massachusetts, Maine, Iowa Texas, Brooklyn, Puritan and Dolphin, arrived at Bar Harbor on Tuesday, and will sail for Hampton Roads to-morrow, waiting at the latter poard the transport Fern, and accompany the the Department.
